George,

I am pleased to provide you with exceptional feedback from all of those that attended our Sales Management Training program that you conducted recently for our team. The customization you had specific to our key issues and industry trends was an enormous benefit in comparison to the standard talk tracks offered at other management training programs. Your front-end preparation (which included extensive interviews of our team) was obvious and as such there was very little we felt was off target through the 2 day course. Thanks for your adapting to our team through the process and allowing us to go in deeper detail in some vital areas and jump quickly through other less significant topics. Every person surveyed felt highly impacted by the training and each has a better appreciation specific to Coaching and Mentoring of their groups.

Best regards,
